WIC is 20 years old, still going strong

By Martin Richter
 and Hilley Schulte
 Staff writers

When Carol Overton of Granite City was pregnant for the first time, she needed help. She turned to the Special Supplemental Food Program for Women, Infants & Children (WIC) for assistance and got more than she planned for.

Carol has a one-year-old and a two-year-old child. When she had her first child, she "didn't know beans about it."

Thanks to WIC, she learned, and her baby got formula. She stuck with WIC the next year, when her second child was born. Now, her children, who are past the young-infant stage, are receiving milk, eggs, cereal and more, and Carol is thankful.

"They care about people. If you need anything, they can help," Carol said of WIC.

This year marks the 20th anniversary of WIC, a federally-funded program established by Congress in 1974.

In May of that year, Illinois' WIC program began with a budget of $1.3 million and served about 12,000 clients through nine agencies.

Today, the Illinois WIC budget stands at nearly $200 million, and services are provided to 230,000 participants each month through more than 200 WIC clinic locations.

With recent increases in federal funding, Illinois will be able to serve an additional 24,000 clients a month by the end of next year.

Locally, WIC has offices in Collinsville, Granite City and Alton, and also provides satellite services in Highland twice a month and in Livingston once a month.

The Granite City office, which was established in 1976, two years after the program began, serves close to 2,000 clients a month, said local WIC Coordinator Donna Schisbly, a Maryville resident.

The WIC office in Granite City is located at 2016 Madison Ave.

Court dockets disrupt City Hall

By Bob Slate
 Staff writer

Recently expanding Madison County court dockets in Granite City have resulted in thefts, fights, property damage and other havoc at City Hall.

While the Madison County Sheriff's Department provides security for the County Courthouse in Edwardsville, only a single court bailiff is assigned to each of the county's two satellite courthouses in Granite City. No law enforcement officers are specifically assigned to that court space, which is used for cases from Madison, Venice, Pontoon Beach and Granite City.

The city provides the courtroom space — as well as two circuit clerk offices — to the county at no charge.

Police department records show that officers have been dispatched to City Hall 22 times in the past 15 months to deal with problems associated with the large influx of humanity associated with court appearances.

Of those 22 calls for service, nine were categorized as "public disturbance," five as "property theft," two as "criminal damage to property," and one each as a fight in progress, an assault, a domestic problem, a suspicious person, an intoxicated person and removing a person from the premises.

City Hall employees say that, in addition to criminal activity, persons waiting their turn to see a judge have been known to urinate and defecate on bathroom floors, let their small children run unattended throughout City Hall, and leave dirty diapers sitting on benches in

Clinic in wrong place: neighbors

ALTON — Friday's murder-suicide at an Upper Alton drug clinic has prompted parents in the neighborhood to begin circulating a petition calling for removal of the clinic.

"My kids have to play out here, and there's always people out here fighting and dealing drugs in the street," said Debbie Cox, who lives across Edwards Street from the Community Counseling Center of Northern Madison County, 2615 Edwards St.

"They're fighting and dealing drugs every day. They even tell the kids to get out of here because they don't want them witnessing the drug deals."

Duane Honchak, of Pontoon Beach, a client at the methadone clinic, fatally shot program director Judy Miller of Berkeley, Mo., about 10:30 a.m. Friday in her office and then shot and killed himself on a nearby parking lot.

Honchak, 37, had threatened to shoot center employees in recent weeks and had been seen carrying a gun in the center. He was upset by alleged comments made by Miller, 45, and his counselor to throw him out of the methadone clinic, sources said.

Alton Chief of Detectives Lt. William Fitzgerald said Honchak was unhappy with the way methadone was dispensed.

The shootings were an inevitable escalation of crime surrounding the drug dealings near the center, neighbors said.

"It was only a matter of time," Cox said. "You can drive by here during the day and you'll see 10 to 20 (clients) lying around near the trees, doing drugs, selling drugs. The more they get away with, the more bold they get. They're not shy about it."

The petition, which residents plan to present to Mayor Bob

17-year-old gets life in murder

By Bob Slate
 Staff writer

The father of a 15-year-old Granite City girl strangled to death in May of last year says he is satisfied with the life sentence recommended by a jury last week for his daughter's murderer.

Tony D. Jones, 17, of St. Louis, was convicted last week of first-degree murder for the brutal May 15, 1993, strangulation murder of Frances Paciencia. Jones was also found guilty of robbery and two counts of armed criminal action in relation to the murder.

A St. Louis County jury deliberated for about five hours Friday before reaching a verdict.

The jury recommended life in prison without parole for the murder conviction and life plus 45 years for the other charges.

Official sentencing is scheduled for next week.

The billing is based on water usage records obtained from the Illinois American Water Company, Davis said. He said the number of customers in the Lansdowne area fluctuates between 800 and 1,200 each month. From 1989 to 1992, East St. Louis accumulated a debt of $489,345 to MESD. The sanitary district has resorted to court action, and has won judgments for that amount representing the debt from 1989-92. The East St. Louis City Council, after meeting with Greathouse in 1992, agreed to pay MESD $15,600 a month until the debt is wiped out, Greathouse said.

But so far, MESD has received one payment of $90,000, he said. MESD filed another lawsuit July 18 in an attempt to collect payments on the judgments. The suit asks the court to order the city to pay the debt and to authorize a bond issue, if necessary, to pay the debt.

Humanitarian relief effort under way Scott personnel aid Rwandan refugees

By Bonita Tillman
Staff writer

More than 20 military personnel from Scott Air Force Base have been deployed to provide humanitarian relief to Rwandan refugees and 68 more are expected to leave any time, base officials said last week.

Lt. Col. Jim Wilkinson, director of plans and programs at the base, said 29 airmen wing personnel have been sent to Spain, Germany, Kenya and Zaire on various support activities related to Operation Support Hope.

"We've started rather small right now for mission support, and it's mostly civil engineering people who have gone," Wilkinson said. "We're a small part of a very large operation. They draw forces from lots of different wings."

Published reports Thursday said 4,000 military personnel could be deployed to relief efforts outside Rwanda.

Transportation and medical service also are included in the deployment, Wilkinson said, but once on the ground, personnel could be shipped out to other locations.

About 183 usually are deployed from the airlift wing at Scott Air Force Base for a variety of missions at any given time, and some personnel are always on standby to move out immediately, officials said.

"This is not something new or different for us. It's part of our readiness," said Brig. General John D. Hopper Jr. "What we're doing is out of the country, but it's business as usual."

What is different about Operation Support Hope is the threat of disease troops face when they assist in the effort, he said.

Cholera has reached major proportions among the Rwandan refugees, but the main concern for the troops will be malaria.

"Our concern is for the health and safety of our people. In this operation, bullets are replaced by health concerns. We send them out with all the medical things they might need because disease is endemic to that area—especially malaria," Hopper said.

Since mobility command personnel are always on alert, most of their shots are up to date, which cuts down on the time it takes to prepare them for leaving, he said. The only shots required would be those that must be given every six months.

When troops return, they continue taking malaria pills for several weeks, Hopper said.

Wilkinson said troops have been given a 179-day mission slip, but the assignment is open-ended and the troops could rotate if the mission lasts longer.

More than 1 million refugees from Rwanda who have fled their country because of civil war and a military upheaval are living in camps along the border.

Refugees, many of them children, are dying by the thousands as an outbreak of cholera appears to be growing to epidemic proportions.

The Air Mobility Command, headquartered at Scott Air Force Base, also has coordinated the movement of cargo planes carrying trucks filled with medical supplies and food to the area.

AMC also deployed several aerial refuelers and personnel Wednesday for aircraft operating in central Africa.

The deployment allows aircraft to refuel while in the air and fly directly to Europe without making fuel stops on the ground.

FBI agents seeking female bank robber

By Mark Hodapp
Staff writer

FBI agents are still seeking a female armed robber who held up the UMB First National Bank at 510 W. Main St. in Belleville late Thursday afternoon.

FBI agents said a lone woman walked into the bank at about 3:12 p.m. Thursday, brandished a small dark handgun and demanded money. Authorities are not releasing any other details on the matter at this time.

The robber, who was captured on the bank's video camera, was given an undisclosed amount of money and fled.

As of late Friday afternoon, the suspect remained at large.

Dave Sax, a detective with the Belleville Police Department, said the suspect is a black woman, in her late 20s to early 30s, with medium to light skin.

She is said to be about 5 foot, 8 inches tall and weigh 120 pounds. She was carrying a large blue bag and is apparently wearing a wig.

She is considered dangerous.

James Goodwin, chief of the detective division of the Belleville Police Department, said the suspect apparently fled from the incident in a car. But because the robbery happened so quickly, a bank teller could not determine what the car type or model was, Goodwin said.

Goodwin said only 16 seconds elapsed from the time the robber approached the counter until she raced out the bank.

He said no one was injured during the incident, which is now being investigated by the FBI.

Anyone who has information about the robbery may call the Belleville Police Department at 624-6248 or the FBI at 624-6248 or the Belleville Police Department at 234-1212.

Flight from police alleged

Venice police charged an East St. Louis man with four offenses last week after he allegedly eluded police by jumping out of a moving vehicle.

Michael Wiley, 17, East St. Louis, faces charges of fleeing to elude an officer, driving without a valid driver's license, leaving an unattended motor vehicle and failing to signal.

According to police reports, Wiley is wanted on a Madison County felony warrant alleging possession of a controlled drug substance.

Venice police saw Wiley's auto at the intersection of Mercedia and College streets in Venice, and attempted to stop him.

Police reported that when Wiley noticed the pursuit, he increased the speed of the blue Ford Escort he was driving and made a left turn on Douglas Street without signaling.

Wiley and a passenger then jumped out of the car, as the Escort continued down the street, it was alleged.

Venice police and a bystander brought the car to a halt before it damaged anything.

The suspect escaped but is to be notified to appear in court in Granite City.

Effort battles accident rate

The Metro East portion of Operation Crossroads last Thursday was declared a success Friday by an Illinois State Police official.

"We are still tabulating the final results, but we had no accidents in our district," Lt. Bill Reckman, patrol commander for the District 11 Illinois State Police in Collinsville, said. "It was a very positive sign that we didn't have any accidents along that stretch."

One of the more successful efforts was an airplane speed detail near Black Lane in Collinsville. Police made 78 arrests, including 13 truck drivers, with the use of a circling plane.

This was the third year for the annual multistate enforcement effort to reduce accidents and stress driving safety along Interstates 70 and 35.

1-70 runs from Maryland to Utah; I-35 stretches from Minnesota to Texas.

State law enforcement officials in the states along those routes cooperated in the blitz from midnight to 11:59 p.m. Thursday.

Operation Crossroads was coordinated by the National Association of Chiefs of Police in suburban Washington, D.C.

"Each state police agency along the line were involved in the effort," Reckman said.

District 11 police concentrated on the stretch of I-70 from East St. Louis to the Fayette County line. District 12 state police covered the remaining stretch of interstate to the Indiana state line.

The highway troopers grouped along the highway or patrolled the interstate to perform the traffic stops.

Reckman estimated that about 40 troopers from District 11 were involved in the effort throughout the day.

"We had commanders, specialists and people who normally aren't on the road out there," Reckman said.

The officers looked for a variety of traffic offenses throughout the day including speeding, alcohol violations, following too closely, illegal lane changes, speed violations and lack of seat belt use.

District 11 police also staffed an information booth at the Silver Lake rest stop on eastbound I-70 near Highland. They offered motorists traffic safety brochures and anti-drunk driving information and bumper stickers.

Reckman said he didn't know why the organizers chose Thursday for the blitz, but he feels their success will probably produce similar events in the future.

Ruling drive court

An elusive goal to cut the Board in half a fall because of constraints, St. Louis County Board of Supervisors has said, pending a referendum in their favor.

For the last several years, the board has said, pending a referendum in their favor.

Haine said he researched the legal number of referendum from concerned voters by petition.

"The question is, County Board of Supervisors by petition, voters by petition, Constitution let solely to the itself," Haine said.

Ruling cuts short drive to reduce county board size

An elusive grass-roots campaign to cut the Madison County Board in half appears likely to fail because of constitutional constraints, State's Attorney William Haine said.

For the last two months, several County Board members have said petitions were circulating in their districts calling for a referendum to cut the 23-member board in half.

Who is behind the petition drive has remained a mystery, with some elected officials saying they heard the backers were from Granite City and others saying East Alton.

Haine said he decided to research the legality of reducing the number of board districts by referendum because of requests from concerned board members.

"The question of reducing the County Board is not open to the voters by petition. The state Constitution leaves that decision solely to the County Board itself," Haine said Thursday. He cited a 1988 Illinois Supreme Court decision striking down a similar referendum drive in Peoria County.

The Supreme Court interpreted the state Constitution to say that the voters have no power over the size of the board. The board reserves that power.

Counties are not governed by the same statute that allows city councils and village boards to be reduced by referendum, he said.

Voters in Alton cut the 14-member City Council in half in a November 1992 referendum. The organizer of the petition drive, John Vollmer, was later elected 1st Ward alderman.

Granite City voters followed suit with a petition drive and referendum of their own that successfully cut their City Council in half earlier this year.

Joe McGinness Sr., a former Granite City Democratic precinct committeeman and the organizer of the Granite City petition drive, is piloting a referendum to replace the County Board chairman with a county executive elected by a county-wide vote.

McGinness said he does not know anything about the effort to cut the County Board.

Some of the topics to be covered include:

- The increase in violent behavior.
  - Contributing factors/red flags to watch out for.
  - Prevention and reduction of employee-related violence.
  - Security of the workplace.
  - Consequence of workplace violence/the aftermath.
  - The cost of violence vs. a violence prevention program.

Where Beautiful Things Begin

Here's another one of our fabulous craft projects! And it's as bright and cheerful as a sunny day in August. All the materials you'll need to make a Sunflower Wall Basket are available at any Frank's. This is one of many creative craft project instruction sheets from Frank's vast collection.

MATERIALS NEEDED:

- 16" straw wreath
- 2 packages Creative Twist (CT), one color for basket (yellow) and another for bow (fuchsia)
- 4" x 2" x 3" foam block
- 1 bunch each sunflowers and green ivy
- 1 Daisy Kingdom no-sew applique (6258)
- 1 sheet beige fun foam
- Heat 'n Bond
- Floral wire
- Cool melt glue and glue gun

Step 1: Untwist entire 6 yards of basket color of CT. Cut in half lengthwise. Cut five 20" pieces of CT. Lay these pieces out horizontally, side by side. Cut twelve 9" pieces and weave an over and under pattern through the 20" pieces.

Step 2: To secure weaving, glue end and bottom strips together. At top edge, fold (strip) that were woven over at the top to the inside and glue. Other strips should be glued and excess paper trimmed.

Step 3: Bend straw wreath into an oval shape by pressing sides together slightly. Wrap wreath with remaining CT.

starting at one side, wrapping to other.

Step 4: Take woven CT and place it on top of oval wreath. Wrap sides and bottom around wreath and secure to wreath with floral pins. Trim off excess CT and glue.

Step 5: Fuse Daisy Kingdom design to the fun foam with Heat 'n Bond. Cut out design and glue to wreath as shown. Glue block of foam to bottom of wreath and the woven CT (inside back).

WIC

"We provide nutrition education, food supplements and health histories to pregnant women, breast feeding women, and infants and children up to age five," Schabily said.

"And we do a lot of referrals," she said. "If they come in and they don't have electricity, or they're looking for housing, or immunizations."

With welfare reform a hot topic among politicians these days, WIC officials say their program actually saves taxpayers some money by stressing preventive measures.

"WIC has a track record of providing an effective, cost-efficient wellness program to some of the state's most vulnerable citizens," said Dr. John R. Lumpkin, director of the Illinois Department of Public Health.

Studies have shown that, for every dollar spent prenatally in WIC, up to $3 can be saved in Medicaid costs for babies born prematurely or with other medical problems," he said.

"But more importantly, it provides our most vulnerable children with their best chance at beginning life healthy," Lumpkin said.

Unlike food stamps that can buy many kinds of foods, WIC participants are issued food coupons that are like prescriptions to fit their individual needs.

Schabily said many people don't even realize they are eligible for the WIC program.

To be eligible, a woman or child must be shown to be at nutritional risk, with anemia or inadequate diet.

The program is open to those whose family income falls within 185 percent of the government-defined poverty line.

For example, effective July 1 a family of four with an annual income of less than $27,380 would be eligible.

"Many of our people do have jobs," Schabily said. "And you can still get food stamps and public aid, and still be eligible."

Last year, U.S. Rep. Richard Durbin, D-Springfield, visited the Collinsville WIC office to talk about the fact that about 40 percent of those eligible for the WIC program weren't even aware that they qualified.

Schabily said the local program has picked up new clients since then by doing outreach at doctors' offices, laundromats and grocery stores, and by running advertisements about the program.

For information on the WIC program, or to see if they qualify, persons may call the Granite City office, 877-3433, the Collinsville WIC, 344-0444, or the Alton office, 462-8155.

Towse and the City Council, will ask that the city look into the possibility of moving the center from the neighborhood. Otherwise, residents at least want the city to erect "no loitering" signs.

"If these people are on drugs and are getting help, I think that's great," Cox said. "If they would just go in and get their stuff and leave, it would be no problem. But they come out, stand and sit around, deal drugs, yell and fight."

Cox, whose children are eight and 11, said she has called police several times complaining about the center's clients disturbing neighbors.

"They say we can get you a report, but a report doesn't help anybody. This clinic should not be in a residential neighborhood," she said.

Community Counseling Center offers more than just drug counseling and addiction treatment. For example, the center has provided counseling services under a state program to more than 400 flood victims, many of whom moved to the Alton area from Jersey, Greene and Calhoun counties.

But neighbor Sue Coleman said the drug clinic's presence has hurt the neighborhood.

"I grew up in my house. It was always a real quiet, close neighborhood," said Coleman, 34. "But now we can't even let our kids outside. Now someone has been shot and killed 500 feet from my door and I don't like it."

The center opened in fall 1982 under the name of Madison County Mental Health Inc. on the site of the former Edwards Street Assembly of God Church.

"We were told it was going to be marriage counseling," Cox said. "Marriage counseling was one thing, but a methadone clinic is a whole different thing."

Methadone is a synthetic narcotic used to treat heroin and morphine addicts because it causes withdrawal symptoms.

When neighbors first learned of the drug abuse program, no one seemed concerned, one resident said.

"I tried to get all the neighbors together, but nobody would go," neighbor Jean Russell said. "My son almost went to work there. I'm so glad he didn't."

Massed choir festival at Shrine

The Ecumenical Laypersons United (ELU), an interdenominational steering committee of laypersons, is sponsoring a massed choir festival in the outdoor amphitheater at the Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows on Saturday, Sept. 24, at 7:30 p.m.

The choir will be composed of 250 to 300 voices assembled from a number of church choirs, as well as individuals, under the direction of Dr. A. Dennis Sparger.

In case of inclement weather, the concert will be held in St. Peter's Cathedral. The concert is open to the public and free, but donations will be accepted to defray expenses.

As of June 28, the church choirs participating included: Calvary Evangelical Lutheran Church, Christ United Church of Christ First Assembly of God, First Church of the Nazarene, First Evangelical Free Church, First United Presbyterian Church, Hillcrest Christian Church.

Hope United Church of Christ, Queen of Peace Catholic Church, Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows Kantorei, Signal Hill Lutheran Church, St. Mary's Catholic Church, St. Matthew's United Methodist Church, St. Paul's United Church of Christ, St. Peter's Cathedral (Catholic), Union United Methodist Church, Westminster Presbyterian Church, Westview Baptist Church.

Additional churches were considering participating, but had not been confirmed by June 28.

This is an interdenominational effort and not limited to choirs, so any individual wishing to participate should contact the choir director from one of the above churches for information on rehearsals and begin rehearsing with one of that choir immediately. Individuals are responsible for their own sheet music, although some selections may be available through the participating church choirs.

The musical program will be: The Star Spangled Banner — Clydesdale, Our God Reigns/All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name — Rhodes, He Watching Over Israel (from Elijah) — Mendelssohn, Old One Hundredth Psalm Tune — R.V. Williams, There Is a Balm in Gilead — Dawson, When the Saints Go Marching In — Rutler, Give Me Jesus — Fleming, He Never Failed Me Yet — Ray, Hallelujah (from Mount of Olives) — Beethoven, How Great Thou Art — Clydesdale, The Majesty and Glory of Your Name — Fetteke, Beautiful River — Rutler, Battle Hymn of the Republic — Wilhousky. Sparger is directing this concert through special arrangement with the Masterworks Choral.

Warriors coach discusses his philosophy during seminar

By Tony Panozzo
Staff writer

Granite City soccer coach Gene Baker has taught the game to countless players over the past two decades at GCHS. But his teachings often extend far beyond the playing field, where he challenges players to think.

Baker shared some of his views about the game and approach to coaching last week during a coaching seminar held at the Holiday Inn in Collinsville. Baker was the featured speaker during the seminar, entitled "The Evolution of Soccer."

"THE SEMINAR, conducted by the Saint Elizabeth Health Services Sports Medicine program July 27, combined discussions of coaching methods along with talks on the prevention and treatment of soccer-related injuries."

Baker, McKendree College soccer coach Tim Strange and former Collinsville High star Joe Reininger concluded the seminar with their views on different aspects of the game after a series of health-related talks by athletic trainers Mark Pardee and Dan Stephens and St. Elizabeth Medical Center staff surgeon Peter Anderson.

After a discussion by Pardee on the prevention of injuries associated with soccer, Baker took the podium and introduced some of his philosophies about the game and his approach to teaching the sport on the high-school level.

Baker, an English teacher at GCHS, stressed the importance of academics and the need for players to focus first on education.

"The soccer player should be, must be, a student-athlete," Baker said. "The biggest copout in school is the student who attends class physically but not mentally. The same thing happens in soccer."

HE COMPARED THE playing field to a classroom, where the coach often becomes a teacher and the players become students. Baker drew the analogy by introducing a diagrammed field, where the game is looked at as a test, corner kicks become questions posed by a teacher and game plans are synonymous with studying for a test.

"The coach should be regarded by the student as a teacher, and the playing field as a classroom," Baker said. "All too often, the player regards coaches as the enemy. Teachers and students win together and fail together. Consequently, you're always reminding them we're on the same team."

"If players are student-athletes, then the coach must be a teacher-coach."

Baker compared the interaction between coaches and players to the education process. Players are given directions, and coaches help carry out the learning process.

"Soccer is a myriad of decisions," Baker said. "The game demands that you make quick, constant decisions."

"YOUR HOMEWORK in soccer is the skills you worked on that particular day. In practice, a player should follow directions and be attentive. There's no such thing as 'missing practice'."

Baker also addressed other aspects of the game and covered his "101 great goals," a series of game concepts and rules passed on to the players at GCHS.

"Coaching is a gift from your students. That's the way I regard it."

— Gene Baker

The veteran coach also stressed the importance of weight training and the benefits of playing other high school sports in addition to soccer.

"I feel the future of soccer in the United States will have so much to do with weightlifting," Baker said. "I definitely feel another sport keeps you fresh and applies other skills. You need some other point of interest."

Baker has won nine state titles and numerous coaching awards during his long and successful career. He is approaching 500 career victories and ranks third nationally among prep coaches behind St. Louis University's High's Eddie Dunn and CBC's Bob Horgan.

BUT BAKER HAS not lost sight of the importance of the interaction between players and coaches, or students and teachers.

"Coaching is what you make of it, and you must have a love for what you do," Baker said. "Coaching is a gift from your students. That's the way I regard it."

Three-peat is Eagles' goal for M-C playoffs

By Jim Bradley
Staff writer

The regular season is in the books for the Mon-Clair League, and the Waterloo Buds are the South Division champions.

That's something Buds manager Vern Moeurs puts a lot of stock in. But the second season is about to get under way — the playoffs.

WATERLOO CLOSED out the season with a league-best 23-3 record, and Moeurs has said in the past that he actually feels prouder when his teams win the overall league title. But when the Buds take the field this weekend, a playoff title is something they're going to want to bring back to Waterloo.

Standing in their way will be two-time defending playoff champion Granite City. The Eagles won the North Division with a 20-6 record, and manager Daren DePew told his team after a doubleheader split with Valmeyer on Sunday that he wanted a three-peat in the league playoffs.

As of right now, this loss doesn't mean anything to us," DePew said. "We won the North, and unless Waterloo was swept by East Alton we knew we were going to finish second overall."

Waterloo swept East Alton 6-1 and 5-4.

This year, finishing second overall makes a difference. The league is changing the playoff format. All teams are lumped together in order of finish. The first place team, Waterloo, will play No. 3 Belleville, and so on. The first round of the playoffs is a single elimination at the home parks of the top four teams. The second round is a double-elimination tournament to be played at Longacre park in Fairview.

GRANITE CITY WILL get East St. Louis in the first round. Finishing third overall was the Valmeyer Lakers with an 18-3 record. They will get Milwaukee (13-13) in the opening round. East Alton finished fourth in the league with a 17-9 record and will host Edwardsville (13-13).

Lakers manager Dennis Pieper said he was pleased with the way his team has played the last half of the season and was looking forward to the playoffs. "Since the Fourth of July Tournament, we have really played pretty well," Pieper said. "With the way Dave Luchi pitched Sunday against Granite City, I think our pitching is in line to get us by. If we're going to win, we have to get good pitching and play solid defense."

The team to beat going in every year seems to be the Buds, but with Granite City the two-time defending champs, it

Eagles settle for split after 23-run opener

By Jim Bradley
Staff writer

It was the tale of two games. Sunday's Mon-Clair League doubleheader in Valmeyer was the difference between night and day — complete opposites that didn't attract to each other.

THOSE ARE JUST some of the ways to describe the doubleheader split between the Valmeyer Lakers and the Granite City Eagles at Borsch Park.

Granite City won the opener by the incredible score of 23-5, but the Lakers bounced back and won the nightcap 3-2 in eight innings on a two-run homer by Craig Hoffman.

Granite City closed out the regular season with a 20-6 record, good enough for first place in the North Division. Valmeyer finished at 18-3, second in Waterloo's 23-3 record in the South Division. The playoffs are set to get under way this weekend (see related story).

The first game on Sunday was as ugly as they come. If you were a Lakers fan, Granite City pounded out 19 hits, was given six walks and was helped by seven Valmeyer errors.

"I was embarrassed by that first game and I think the players were, too," Valmeyer manager Dennis Pieper said. "It's a contagious thing. Once one guy starts kicking the ball around, it seemed like the whole team does. But we bounced back in the second game, overcame some early mistakes and gave ourselves a chance to win."

SHAWN Kohlenberger started against Darin Hendrickson in the opener and the Eagles took care of Kohlenberger in 1 1/2 innings. Mike Vogt stayed around for only a third of an inning. Jason Davis made a brief appearance before Mason Horne was brought on in mop-up duty.

The Eagles scored in every inning, including three in the first and five in the second to put the game away early.

"In the first game, it was just matter of getting on a roll," said Granite City manager Daren DePew, who drove in five runs in the first game. "That's baseball. One game you score more runs than you need, then come back in the second game and don't have enough to win. We may have been a little flat in the second game, but you can't use that as an excuse. They played well in the second game and got the big hit when they needed it."

The big hit, Hoffman's home run, came with one out in the bottom of the eighth inning. Eagles starter Jamie Hogan had gotten Tim Degener to strike out to start the inning, but then

Edwardsville claims district title

By Rob Raphael

O'Fallon had not lost a doubleheader at home all year, and with its easy win Saturday against Edwardsville in the American Legion District 22 best-of-three championship series, Post 137 seemed a cinch to take the title.

But then the Bugger-Man came to town.

JESSE RUGGER ripped O'Fallon pitching for seven hits on the day, and the beleaguered Edwardsville pitching staff rose to the occasion themselves, as Edwardsville swept a pair of games Sunday 9-7 and 7-3 to shock O'Fallon and take the District 22 crown at O'Fallon City Park.

Bugger, an Edwardsville High product, went 9 for 12 in the three-game series with four runs scored and four RBIs. He even pitched Post 199 out of a bases-loaded jam in the eighth inning of the second game Sunday when O'Fallon was one hit away from getting back in the game. "He's a great leader for us," said Edwardsville manager Ken Schaeke. "He doesn't say much, but he lets his play on the field lead the team. Today, he really took control of the game."

"I didn't do anything different, I just tried to make good contact," Bugger said. "The ball fell in for me. The whole team put in a big effort today."

On Saturday, O'Fallon looked unstoppable, as it gathered 18 hits en route to a 13-5 romp. But on Sunday, the tables were turned, as it was Edwardsville who did most of the hitting, and it was Edwardsville's pitching who stopped O'Fallon at crucial moments.

"WE GOT MEN on, we moved them over, we just didn't bring them in," said O'Fallon manager Dan Blazier. "We stopped being aggressive, and they just took it to us. I give Edwardsville all the credit."

Sunday started out well for O'Fallon, which ended the season at 27-11. Jeff Sonsoe and Jon Weaving, who combined for nine hits on the day, each singled with two out.

Brian Funk then launched a long home run, easily clearing the 300-foot mark in left-center.

Visiting Edwardsville then tied the game in its half of the fourth inning off of losing pitcher Don O'Keefe. Catcher Brad Evans walked to force in Chris Viox, who also walked. Jon Varady's grounder drove in Bugger, and Aaron Brunworth added an RBI single to center.

O'Fallon re-took the lead in its half of the fourth, thanks to a moon-shot by designated hitter Brian Northway which landed far beyond the center field fence. The solo shot made it 4-3, but it would be the last time O'Fallon would lead all day.

EDWARDSVILLE bounced back with three in the fifth, as Josh Ackerman, Tory Tate and Varady added RBI singles.

In the meantime, pitcher Chris Wright, relieving starter Brian Van Hook, gave Schaeke 5 1/2 innings of relief when it was desperately needed. "Chris really baited us out in that first game," Schaeke said. "Our pitching was very thin coming into today, but they all stepped it up a notch."

Viox came on to get the save in one, striking out three in 1 1/2 innings.

Rob Reidelberger got the start in game two for O'Fallon, but was not backed up well by defense.

Paddlers dominate dive meet

By Rob Raphael
 Correspondent

The Paddlers Diving Team played the role of underdog last Saturday, as it dominated the Southwestern Illinois Swimming Association (SWISA) Conference Dive Meet and coasted to victory.

Paddlers led with 83.5 points, followed by Summersport of Alton with 46 and Mountclair of Edwardsville with 38 points. Wedgewood of St. Louis finished fourth, with Sunset Hills (Edwardsville), Summerhaven (St. Louis) and Gaslight (Collinsville) rounding out the standings.

PADDLERS DIVING coach Gayle McCormick said her divers performed well and had a lot of fun. "It was a bit of sweet revenge for us. We had excellent dive after excellent dive, and we really showed who was the best team."

Paddlers had six first-place finishers in the 10-division meet. They also had three divers finish second, three finish third, four finish fourth and one each placed fifth and sixth.

In the eight and under group, Ian Hartzel placed third in the boys' division with a score of 30.9 points. For the girls' division, Allison Strle placed first with 70.40 points, which broke a SWISA record.

In the 9-10 group, four area divers placed. Michael Vivod (118.70) finished first and Robbie Steen (81.25) finished second in the boys' division. Vivod's total was also a conference record. Alissa Zhruschel captured the 9-10 girls' division with 102 points, and Jenna Cassidy came in a respectable fourth with 87.35 points.

IN THE 11-12 age group, four more Paddlers divers placed. Steven Hendrickson won the boys' division with a record 130.45 points, and Andy Ravanelli came in fourth with 99.30 points. Ashley Slover won the girls' half with 143.45 points, and Laura Canada (125.45) placed fourth.

Tim Cridder (134.15) placed second in the 13-14 boys, with Rocky Smith (130) finishing fourth. Cuvier (142.85) finished fourth on the girls' side, with sister Lisa Cuvier (133.55) coming in sixth. Finally, in the 15-16 age group, the Paddlers took three of the top four spots. Kevin Harris (211.65) finished second and Steve Logan (202) came in third for the boys, and Casey Krinski (237.30) took the girls' division crown while Brooke Bjorkman (220.90) placed fifth. Krinski's score was also a conference record.

"We had a lot of younger kids come out this season, and a lot of older ones came into their own," McCormick said. "It takes dedication to excel at these types of meets, and they did a superb job overall."

McCormick said the diving meet, which is usually held either at Paddlers or Summersport in Alton, ran very smoothly. She said the facilities at those two places provide the only venues capable of hosting such an event.

SHE ADDED SHE had received numerous compliments on the facilities and her team's performance. "They said we really stood out as a team, and we obviously enjoyed ourselves, too. Everyone's time and efforts (See PADDLERS, Page 3B) could be a dofight to the end.

ON PAPER, THE Buds would seem to have a slight advantage in starting pitching with Todd McClure, Jim Schickel and Larry Shikles. But Granite City can throw Brian Harshany and Darin Hedrickson and win any time. However, DePew said that his pitchers are nursing some stiff and sore arms right now.

"I don't know if it's a matter of just being tired at this point or what, but I told them to be ready for next weekend," DePew said. "They need to do what they have to be ready to throw on Sunday."

Offensively, the two teams would be very close. The team that gets the edge here just depends on who is hot.

For Waterloo, Jim and John Wahlg as well as Neil Piala and Mike Wirth will lead the attack. For Granite City, John Moad, Daren DePew, Jim and Jamie Hogan, Doug Duncan and Harshany are all capable of carrying the team.

really paid off today." She added the Paddlers' divers showed a sense of dedication all summer. "It takes a lot of effort to come in early on summer mornings and work hard. It's easy to lay around during the summer, but these kids stayed with it and it paid off. They're smart, they have desire, and it helps their self-esteem."

"They listened well and applied what we have taught them. It comes from pride and from our tradition here at Paddlers."

McCormick also pointed to the success of Granite City's Jenny Baker as a swimmer that has made national headlines and helped the popularity of the sport thrive.

"Jenny proved a point — you can be noticed, and you can be successful being a swimmer. That wasn't always true. Now, the Illinois High School Association is sponsoring meets, so it opens the door to more swimmers and divers."

The Paddlers now get ready for the conference swim meet, scheduled for this Saturday in Collinsville.

"I was just hoping to get four innings out of Jeff," Schake said, "and he gives me almost eight. It shows what a competitor he is."

When Utecht did get into trouble, Bugger and Ryan Boyce bailed him out. "I guess used to be a pitcher in high school," Schake said. "He could only throw fastballs, but I only needed him for one out."

Scott Seipp led O'Fallon in the second game with four hits in five at-bats, plus an RBI. Reidberger and Funk had the other game-two RBIs for O'Fallon. Bugger had three hits and two RBIs in the second game, and hits by Ackerman and Evans helped break a close game open in the fifth inning, when Post 199 turned a 3-1 into a 6-1 advantage.

EDWARDSVILLE (17-12) now moves on to face District 23 champs Mount Vernon in the Fifth Division playoffs. The game is scheduled for 1 p.m. Wednesday.

intentional walk to John Moad loaded the bases. Doug Duncan worked Unterseh for the third walk of the inning to force the lead run across.

"AT THAT POINT, I was feeling pretty good about our chances of a sweep," DePew said. "I thought they might have been a little down after playing so well, then walking in the lead run. But you have to give them credit. They hung in there and gave themselves a chance to win the game."

Degener gave the Lakers their first lead of the day in the fifth inning with a two-out RBI single, scoring Chris Landgraf, who had doubled with one out. Granite City tied the game the next inning with a leadoff home run by Tim Hogan.

Schrader to compete Saturday at Tri-City

By Steve Birmingham
Correspondent

Winston Cup standout Ken Schrader of St. Louis will compete at Tri-City Speedway's CARQUEST/AC-Delco Challenge on Saturday, following his run in that afternoon's Inaugural Brickyard 400 at Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Tri-City Speedway is presenting the "Salute to the Brickyard 400," featuring the NASCAR Busch All-Star Tour for Late Models, with Schrader as special guest. The NASCAR Busch All-Star Tour is the nation's only dirt track series sanctioned by the nation's premier sanctioning body.

"THE BRICKYARD 400 is a big deal and we wanted to bring some of that excitement back to Granite City with the Carquest AC-Delco 50 Salute to the Brickyard," Tri-City promoter Bob Wente said. "Ken's no stranger to the half-mile dirt track here in Granite City. He's raced midgets, sprinters, stock cars and just about everything else at Tri-City."

Schrader grew up in Fenton,

MO., and now lives in Concord, N.C. He's had a lot of success on the Granite City half-mile, finishing high in last year's edition, and said he's looking forward to racing at his hometown speedway.

"I always look forward to this race," Schrader said. "But I've crashed about everywhere around here that you can. Last year, we were kind of out to lunch but I didn't get there in time to practice."

Schrader has won two previous NASCAR Busch Tour events in 1990 and 1991 on Tri-City's half-mile dirt. He will be joined by over 30 Busch Tour regulars including Brothers Steve, Joe and Ed Kosiski, Winston Racing Series Champion Steve Boley and Curt Martin, a two-time winner on this year's tour.

The 50-lap CARQUEST/AC-Delco Challenge will offer a total purse over $20,000, with $3,500 going to the winner.

Advanced reserved seats are $16 and are available by calling Racecity at (314) 488-0666. Spectator gates open at 5 p.m., time trials at 7 p.m. and racing at 8 p.m.

For more information contact Bob Wente at (314) 947-7287.

Disability program would speed claims

By Bill Hunot
Social Security Administration

Q. I have read, in its entirety, the proposal to re-engineer Social Security's disability program. I fear the new process will result in the denial of benefits to more people. Doesn't the proposed change in the process effectively change the definition of disability?

A. For the 2 million people who file claims each year, and for Social Security's employees, the current disability process is a bureaucratic marathon.

Disability claims are shuffled from one decision-maker to another. Up to 26 people may review an initial claim. The claimant may not have a chance to see the decision-maker until the third level of appeal.

The process currently averages 155 days from an applicant's first contact with Social Security until the initial decision, and can take years for people who pursue appeals through the administrative process.

The proposed disability plan is intended to streamline the process to arrive at accurate decisions faster. One major change calls for putting the claim in the hands of a disability claims manager who would control the file until a decision is made on the claim.

The claims manager would quickly determine whether an individual is working and whether the claimant has a medically determinable impairment. From the beginning of the new process, the claims manager would focus on obtaining just the information and evidence necessary to decide the claim, and explaining to the claimant how that decision is made.

By assisting claimants with the information and services needed to pursue a claim and simplifying the decision process, Social Security hopes to reduce the time to make an initial decision to less than 40 days.

The proposed plan permits a hearing and an opportunity to present more evidence before a negative decision.

A new, simplified "index of impairments" would replace the current complex "listing of impairments" and facilitate quicker decisions.

You have questioned whether the index would result in denying more people. It shouldn't. The index will be used only to allow an individual. It would not provide the basis for denying a claim. Claims by individuals who do not meet the criteria in the index would proceed another step in the evaluation process, based on an assessment of the individual's ability to function.

Let's face it. It's already tough to get Social Security disability benefits. Forty percent of claimants are denied. Social Security expects that individuals who would be allowed under the current rules are so severely impaired that they would be allowed at some point in the new proposed process. The difference is that they will find the experience less complicated and traumatic.

Anyone who is curious about the new disability process can write to get a free summary of the proposal and a publication that explains the current process. Write to Social Security Administration, Public Affairs Office, 12140 Woodcrest Executive Drive, Suite 106, Creve Coeur MO 63141.

Colleges p... with state l...

Officials at Southern University at Edwardsville and Clark College are beginning a new state budget. Illinois lawmakers passed a $3.1 billion hike in appropriations. Gov. J. signed the bill Wednesday.

SIUE will get a 2% increase in operating expenses from $70.7 million from the state in the fiscal year 1995-96.

LCCC's operating expenses will increase 5.75 percent, to $3.5 million. LCCC received an $881,000 for renovation of the Hall.

"Given the financial state of the state, we're pleased," said David Werner, president and vice president of SIUE.

Werner said he is pleased with the new budget but appropriations for SIUE appeared to be about $1 million less than what he had hoped for.

March, Werner said budget would allow a 10 percent pay increase for faculty and staff. Improvements in education and new programs.

"We're very pleased," said Governor, the Legislature area legislators. President Dale Cl... "This is a very positive for education."

Chapman said the level is what LCCC anticipated when an $11.57 million budget that the college trustees adopted.

LCCC is planning a 4 percent budget increase program, high-technology education and several faculty among other things.

"Around the clock systems of public aren't faring too well," Chapman said. "congratulated for emphasis on education. It is in the budget of the state to do."

Colleges pleased with state budget

Officials at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and Lewis and Clark Community College are beaming over the new state budget.

Illinois lawmakers recently passed a $33 billion budget that hikes appropriations for both institutions. Gov. Jim Edgar signed the bill Wednesday.

SIUE will get a 2.7 percent increase in operating funds, to $70.7 million from $68.8 million in the fiscal year that ended June 30.

LCCC's operating budget is up 5.7 percent, to $3.53 million from $3.34 million. LCCC also will receive an $81,000 appropriation for renovation of historic Gilman Hall.

"Given the financial condition of the state, we're very pleased," said David Werner, vice president and provost at SIUE.

Werner said he had not seen the new budget but said appropriations for SIUE appeared to be about what the governor had proposed in March. Werner said the new budget would allow for 3.5 percent pay increases, improvements in undergraduate education and new minority programs.

"We're very pleased with the governor, the Legislature and our area legislators," LCCC President Dale Chapman said. "This is a very positive budget for education."

Chapman said the funding level is what LCCC officials anticipated when they prepared an $11.57 million fiscal 1995 budget that the college's board of trustees adopted Tuesday.

LCCC is planning to hike pay by 4 percent, begin a new dental hygiene program, purchase new high-technology equipment and add several faculty members, among other things.

Around the country, a lot of systems of public education aren't faring too well," Chapman said. "Illinois is to be congratulated for placing the emphasis on education that it does. It is in the vital interests of the state to do so."

Workshops set on small businesses and government contracts

The workshop will be held Aug. 10 and Oct. 3 at the Small Business Development Center located on the University campus. Registration for either workshop is $50. Additional information may be obtained by contacting Rick Russell at the SIUE Small Business Development Center, 692-2929.

•Measure

TRAVERSE (DRAW) DRAPERIES: Once you've installed the rods, carefully measure the length of the rod from bracket to bracket (using a steel tape for accuracy). Then add 4 inches for overlap at the center of the window, plus the measurement of the returns on each rod. The total number of inches will equal the finished width of your draperies. (If it's a one-way draw, there will be no overlap.)

To establish the best length, follow these guidelines:

- For draperies hung by hooks from conventional traverse or curtain rods, simply measure from the top of the installed rod.

- For decorative traverse rods or cafe rods with rings, measure from the bottom of the rings. Usual lengths are the sill, apron or floor (see sketch above). Some styles today, however, are made long enough so fabric pools gracefully on the floor.

CAFE CURTAINS: Measure

the width of the rods between the finials. For the length of each tier, measure from the lower part of the clip or ring on the upper rod to 3 to 6 inches below the clip or ring on the lower rod. This is the finished length. If you have decorative cafe rods and want the bottom rods and rings to show, measure from the bottom of the ring on the top rod to the top of the lower rod.

For the lower tier, measure from the bottom of the ring on the lower rod to the desired finished length.

Curtains mounted inside casing: Measure the length from the top of the rod to the sill.

SHIRRED CURTAINS OR VALANCES: Finished length should be from 1 inch above the top of the rod to the desired length. For width, plan on from two to three times the measured window width for generous fullness.

CASEMENT CURTAINS or treatments for French doors: Measure the length from the top of the upper rod to the bottom of the lower rod. To figure the width, measure the rod width inside the brackets, then plan on 1 1/2 to three times the actual width for fullness.

BALLOON OR ROMAN SHADES: These usually are mounted on or above the casing. To determine the length if the shade is mounted on a rod, measure from the top of the rod to the sill. The finished width of the shade will be even with (or one-half inch wider than) the outside edges of the window casing.

DECORATIVE WINDOW SCARF: A decorative scarf is a single piece of fabric that goes up one side of the window, across the top and down the other.

On each side of the window, measure from the bottom of the drapery ring or from the top of the decorative rod to the desired length for the scarf. Add 10 inches to each side if you want to create a pooled effect on the floor.

Because the scarf is all one piece, measure the width of the area to be covered and add it to the length.

To create rosettes or bishop's sleeve pools as trappings; add 12 inches for each. If the scarf is to wrap around the pole, add 36 inches for each long or drooping loop. The width of the fabric you ultimately need can range from a sumptuous 54 inches to a more conservative 36 inches.

MINISLAT BLINDS mounted inside window casing: Measure the distance between casings where brackets will be mounted (one inch of flat surface is required for each bracket). For length, measure the distance from inside the top casing to the sill.

VERTICAL BLINDS: An outside-the-casing mount is recommended. For length, allow at least 4 inches above the window or door opening for installation of the headrail and brackets. If vanes hang to the floor, allow three-quarters to 1 inch for clearance.

For width, measure from the outside edges of the window casing; add 2 to 4 inches for overlap on the wall at each side and for stacking to one side when the blinds are fully open.

A Mammogram: A Picture That Could Save Your Life

One in nine women will develop breast cancer at some point in her life, but mammography can help you beat the odds.

If someone told you that simply having your picture taken could save your life, would you do it? Of course. A mammogram, which can detect breast cancer in its earliest stages, is just that — a picture — an x-ray of the breast that can save your life.

Memorial's Mammography Center offers state-of-the-art diagnostic equipment and skilled personnel for complete screening services and test interpretation by board-certified radiologists in a private, comfortable and convenient setting. Memorial's program is accredited by the American College of Radiology and recognized by the American Cancer Society as an ACR-accredited facility. This means Memorial's Mammography Center maintains the healthcare industry's most recognized accreditation for consistently following strict guidelines for low-dose, high-image quality.

Don't fear the results of a mammogram. With today's effective treatment options, up to 90 percent of women with breast cancer can beat the odds when it is found and treated early.

Local BAC campus to hold open house

The Granite City Campus of Belleville Area College will celebrate the grand opening of the new Industrial Training Center with an open house from 1-5 p.m., Friday, Aug. 19.

The festivities will include ongoing tours of the $3.2 million facility throughout the open house. Festivities will kick off at 1 p.m. with a ribbon-cutting and dedication ceremony.

Speakers will include BAC President Joseph J. Cipri, Ph.D., GCC Provost B.J. Davis, former State Sen. Sam Wolf, and representatives from National Steel of Granite City.

The new 37,000-square-foot facility is the site of classrooms and labs for such occupational training courses as Industrial Heavy Maintenance, Industrial Electrician, Industrial Electronics/Instrumentation, Industrial Machine Shop, Industrial Millwright, Industrial Pipefitter, and Industrial Welder.

The new ITC will also include training laboratories for Air Conditioning, Heating and Refrigeration, Major Appliance Repair, and Welding Technology.

In 1992, Gov. Jim Edgar allocated $2.3 million in state funding to help BAC renovate the GCC gymnasium for the new ITC. Industrial classes had been held at National Steel's Granite City plant. Construction was completed this summer by L. Wolf Construction of Granite City.

Much of the state-of-the-art equipment for the facility was donated by the General Motors Assembly Plant, Cee Kay Supply, Emerson Electric, and Cerro Copper.

Every tart flavor differs. Apple cider vinegar varies from white vinegar varies from wine vinegar. They all differ from tarragon vinegar or fruit-flavored vinegar, which again varies from lemon juice or wine. Taste the difference in salad dressing, a marinade or pasta salad.

Health & Fitness

Medicine Chest

Antihistamines work more effectively if they are taken before the body's allergic reaction. Taking the antihistamine one to two hours before the body reacts to the allergen is recommended.

Fresh Picks

For fresh-tasting tang in an instant, citrus perks up other fresh fruits and vegetables. Add sliced fresh orange to spinach-onion salad or toss it with cauliflower, honey and lemon juice. Squeeze lemon juice into chicken, turkey or tuna salad. Blend equal amounts of lemon juice and sugar, then drizzle over fruit salad. Try lemon instead of vinegar in salad dressing.

Big Fat Tip

Switch to a tasty TLT. Instead of using high-fat bacon for lunch, quickly brown strips of turkey tenderloin to sandwich between bakery-fresh whole-grain bread, romaine lettuce, plum tomatoes and fat-free mayonnaise mixed with barbecue sauce.

White Castle has decided to slide burgers through vending slots and Ore-Ida Foods Corp. plans to fry french fries in vending machines at the touch of a button and clinking change.

Miracle Workers

By Janice Denham
Staff writer

What miracles does the genie in the refrigerator work in summer? Open the door — if you dare — to find out.

Leftovers may be naturally fuzzy — like peaches or kiwifruit on the outside — or may have grown that way over time. Start fresh, but keep in mind leftovers become magical when a wand waves new life in them.

For instance, pasta is here today in a light mixture of chicken broth, garlic and fresh basil, and leftovers are gone tomorrow in salad with chicken chunks, chopped celery and onion and low-fat honey mustard dressing.

Juice refreshes over ice, but a few tablespoons over sliced fresh fruit with a sprinkle of cinnamon captures its summer sweetness. Cook a few summer apples and add to a jar of chunky applesauce if a sweet tooth needs a diversion.

Delicious meat goes to lunch on sandwiches, but becomes a movable feast for the patio as an appetizer wrapped in a flour tortilla with horseradish-flavored, fat-free cream cheese and a thin layer of alfalfa sprouts.

Tortillas are superb sandwich wraps that keep well, too. Warm them slightly to make them pliable. Wrap extras well to save for future meals beyond bread.

Rice is a natural for marvels a food fairy works. Store plain cooked rice in the refrigerator up to one week for timesaving meals. Cook it with low-sodium bouillon for savory foods, with milk for sweet concoctions. Follow microwave directions on the package for perfect rice and a cool kitchen every time.

Make the most of each fruit of the summer season. To keep sliced fruit from browning, dip it in a mixture of 1 tablespoon lemon juice and 1 cup water. These recipes highlight variations on a genie's theme. Pork tenderloin is used with fruit for the kabobs. To use a cut besides tenderloin, cube lean pork and marinate in pineapple juice an hour or two in the refrigerator before grilling. Turn the pork often and do not overcook it.

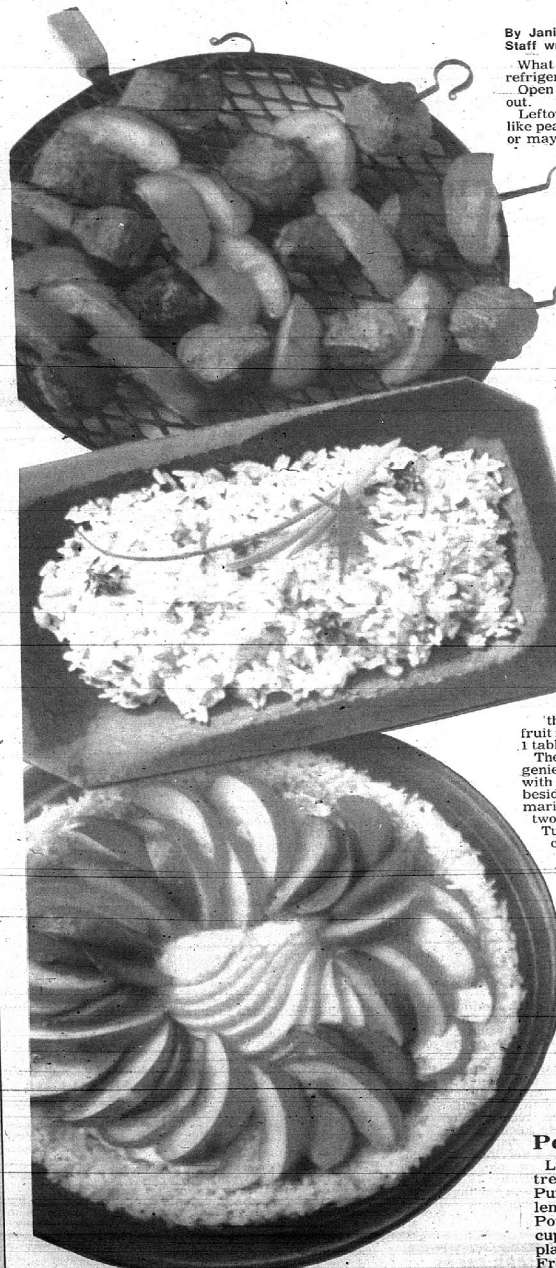

Genie likes to take her show on the road sometimes for a picnic, where keeping a movable feast

Peach Pops

Light, juicy and refreshing, an icy treat quenches afternoon thirst. Puree 3 fresh peaches, add ½ cup lemonade and 2 tablespoons sugar. Pour into pop molds, or into paper cups and insert wooden sticks or plastic spoons when partially frozen. Freeze until firm.

A homey mixture of noodles, ground beef and tasty sauce is a family meal worth remembering — even when some of its roots are in a box.

Private Label Test Run

Burger-noodle dish takes testers 'home'

If a box of flavored noodle mix can elicit murmurs of flavorful memories, it was Bi-Rite beef-flavored noodle dinner from Shop 'n Save.

"It tastes the same as it did when I was a kid," one taster said, referring to its national brand relative, Hamburger Helper.

In this week's Private Label Test Run, there was a noticeable difference between the two: The national brand costs twice as much as the Shop 'n Save variety which runs less than $1.

The product was prepared according to package directions with ground round beef. It was left covered almost an hour before the tasting.

Testers didn't think the variable preparation was detrimental at all.

"It definitely doesn't taste boxed," one taster said. "It does not taste artificial. It tastes normal — like a thickened meat and noodle mixture. Some mixes get real dry, but this is moist."

One was impressed by the smooth flavor, with a minimal salt flavor for a packaged product. The Bi-Rite brand also comes in chili tomato and cheese-burger macaroni mixtures.

The testers thought it still makes a good family meal. Like the national brand, the package designates five servings from the package with one pound of meat.

They thought this fair, considering some "servings" are unrealistically small.

They suggested it would be compatible with a family of two adults and younger children.

"When I had small kids, it was a definite convenience and I think it still works well today," one taster added.

The group thought the noodles were the right size and tenderness, the sauce thick yet moist enough to make an inviting main dish.

In this age of vegetable awareness, they thought it would be easy to add onion, broccoli or other vegetables to the mix to extend it and add nutrients. Served with a salad, they would recommend it for a filling, tasty meal.

Turkey off grill takes low-fat bow

Take a break from fatty pork steaks, ribs and burgers. Replace them with turkey fresh off the grill.

Six ounces turkey tenderloin with only six grams fat is a dream, rather than the nightmare of six ounces pork steak at 48 grams fat after cooking.

Because turkey has so little fat to keep it moist, turkey can dry out during cooking. Three easy steps can produce succulent turkey.

First, leave the skin on turkey to protect the meat while cooking, but take it off before eating to reduce fat.

Better yet, choose skinless cuts and marinate in low-fat dressing. Bottled salad dressings mixed with vinegar, wine or lemon juice and herbs are quick and delicious to use. Alcoholic or non-alcoholic beer, white wine and fruit juices are also super-easy.

Next, prepare the coals. Hot coals are glowing red, while medium-hot coals are covered with gray ash. Add five or six briquets to the fire every half hour to keep temperature constant.

Finally, recognize that different turkey cuts require varying grilling methods and cooking times. Here are tips from Louis Rich that yield grilled turkey that will make the patio crowd crow with pleasure.

Fresh breast tenderloins: Use direct heat, uncovered. Cook 4 inches from medium-hot coals 20 to 30 minutes.

Fresh breast slices or tenderloin steaks: Use direct heat, uncovered. Cook 6 inches from medium-hot coals 10 to 15 minutes.

Fresh breast (whole, half or portion): Use indirect heat, covered grill. Set turkey over heavy-duty aluminum foil formed into a drip pan. Over hot coals — add more after 1 hour — cook 2 to 4 pounds meat 1 1/2 to 2 hours, to internal temperature of 170°.

Fresh drumsticks, thighs or wings: Wrapped in heavy-duty aluminum foil, use direct heat in covered grill.

Cook 4 inches from medium coals 1 1/2 hours, turning once and adding coals during cooking to maintain heat. Remove foil and grill 10 minutes longer, brushing with sauce.

Turkey burgers: Use direct heat, uncovered. Cook 4 inches from hot coals 10 to 15 minutes.

This recipe for burgers from "Dinner Discoveries" by Louis Rich could be a winner among the summer fare at anyone's house.

BLACK PEPPER PATTIES

- 1 pkg. (about 1 lb.) ground fresh turkey
- 1 tsp. instant chicken bouillon granules
- 1/4 tsp. leaf thyme
- 1 tsp. coarsely ground pepper
- 1 large tomato, chopped
- 1/2 cup plain yogurt
- 1 tbsp. chopped fresh parsley

parsley

Mix turkey, bouillon and thyme. Shape into four (4-inch) patties. Sprinkle about 1/8 teaspoon pepper per side on patties, lightly pressing pepper into meat.

Grill as indicated or cook in nonstick skillet over medium heat, turning occasionally, about 12 minutes or until no longer pink.

In small bowl, mix together tomato, yogurt and parsley. Serve cold sauce over hot turkey patties.

The next "I Love Eating" cooking class will be held from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 31, at the Missouri Botanical Garden, 4344 Shaw Blvd., St. Louis. Admission to the garden that morning and the class is free, but registration is required.

Zucchini enjoys legacy as garden pro

A great joy of summer gardening is zucchini squash. After six weeks in production, regularly-picked bushes can produce until frost.

Zucchini should be picked at the right moment. Markets sometimes sell them too old or too dry and fibrous. This is a vegetable definitely superior when homegrown, so it pays to cultivate the friendship of a neighbor whose garden brims with this squash.

Zucchini was virtually unknown 50 years ago. A comparatively recent addition to the American menu, zucchini is popular for its delicate flavor and texture, is excellent in any part of the meal — from appetizer through dessert.

For a simple no-cook appetizer, cut raw zucchini in finger-shapes and spread lightly with a mixture of 1/2 cup mayonnaise and 1 teaspoon curry.

To cook zucchini to retain its delicate flavor and nutritional value, use a microwave oven. For best results, use a high power setting and cook until barely tender, then let it continue to cook as it stands.

A fast way to enjoy this vegetable is to cook sliced zucchini in a covered casserole with 1 or 2 tablespoons water about 5 minutes per pound. Drain, dot with butter and sprinkle with parmesan cheese and herb-seasoned stuffing crumbs. The task is quick and easy, the results outstanding.

For a change of pace, try zucchini in a salad or as a main dish. These recipes are guaranteed to make everyone a zucchini lover.

ZUCCHINI MUSHROOM SALAD

- 4 small zucchini
- 1 cup mushrooms

- 1/4 cup balsamic vinegar
- 1/4 cup olive oil
- 1 tsp. minced fresh tarragon
- 1 head romaine lettuce
- Salt and pepper to taste

Slice zucchini 1/2-inch thick. Quarter slices. Cut mushrooms in half.

Place zucchini and mushrooms in 1-quart casserole dish with 1 tablespoon water. Cook, covered, 2 to 3 minutes until barely tender but still firm. Drain well.

Add vinegar, oil and tarragon. Marinate about 2 hours. To serve, break lettuce in small pieces into bowl. Top with mushrooms and zucchini. Toss.

Makes 4 to 6 servings.

STUFFED ITALIAN ZUCCHINI

- 2 large zucchini
- 1/4 cup sliced green onion
- 2 tbsp. butter or margarine

- 1/4 cup Italian-seasoned bread crumbs
- 1/4 cup parmesan cheese
- 1 small tomato, chopped
- 1 cup cooked sausage, if desired for main dish
- Salt and pepper to taste

Cut zucchini lengthwise in halves. Scoop out pulp, leaving 1/4-inch wall. Chop pulp.

Place zucchini shells outside down on microwave-safe plate or casserole. Cover with waxed paper. Cook on high power 3 to 4 minutes until tender-crisp.

Place zucchini pulp, onion and butter in 1-quart glass bowl. Cook, covered, on high power 3 to 4 minutes until tender. Stir in bread crumbs, cheese, tomato, sausage, salt and pepper.

Turn zucchini shells outside up. Spoon crumb mixture into shells. Cover with waxed paper. Cook on high power 3 to 4 minutes until hot.

Makes 4 servings. Cooking instructor Betty Serati specializes in microwave cooking.

Wise Ways

By MARY SCHROEPFER

New meat label reminds burger fans about safety

Quick, easy meals based on ground meat entrees are a snap when dishes like grilled burgers, taco salad, skillet dinners and campsite stews provide delicious bases for the variable menu.

However, ground meat — like all fresh meat and poultry — is perishable and should be handled carefully.

All raw meat and poultry products now require safe cooking and handling instructions as a safety reminder to consumers. The label reads like this:

Safe Handling Instructions

"This product was prepared from inspected and passed meat and/or poultry. Some food products may contain bacteria that could cause illness if the product is mishandled or cooked improperly. For your protection, follow these safe handling instructions."

"Keep refrigerated or frozen. Thaw in refrigerator or microwave."

"Keep raw meat and poultry separate from other foods. Wash working surfaces (including cutting boards), utensils and hands after touching raw meat or poultry."

"Cook thoroughly."

"Keep hot foods hot. Refrigerate leftovers immediately or discard."

This label reminds consumers that some raw meat and poultry may contain dangerous bacteria and proper handling can provide protection from food-borne illness.

Raw meat should be cooked until it reaches a temperature of 155°F or no visible pink remains. Thorough cooking of raw meat kills many micro-organisms. Young children, elderly or ill individuals are particularly vulnerable, so they should eat only thoroughly cooked meats and poultry.

For best flavor development and thorough cooking, simmer a ground meat mixture after browning. To keep fat low in this taco salad, use a baked or microwave taco shell, extra-lean ground beef, low-fat sour cream and low-fat cheese. A serving of "lite" taco salad has 424 calories and 13 grams fat, while standard taco salad made with full-fat equivalents has about 1,100 calories and 67 grams fat.

'LITE' TACO SALAD

1 lb. lean ground beef or ground round
½ cup chopped onion
1 pkg. taco seasoning mix
¼ cup water

1 can (16 oz.) kidney beans, well drained
1¼ cups chopped green bell pepper
1¼ cups chopped tomato
½ cup (2 oz.) grated low-fat mozzarella cheese
½ cup low-fat dairy sour cream
¾ cup salsa
6 cups torn lettuce
6 large flour tortillas

In large skillet, brown meat and onion. Drain fat. Add taco seasoning mix and water. Cook over low heat 10 minutes. Add beans. Heat 5 minutes.

Arrange each tortilla in individual heat-proof casserole. Microwave individually on high power 1 minute until crisp, or bake in 400° oven until lightly toasted and brown.

Fill tortilla shell with lettuce and ground meat mixture. Top with green pepper, tomato, cheese, sour cream and salsa.

Makes 6 servings; 424 calories, 32 g protein, 13 g fat, 421 mg sodium and 10 g fiber each.

Note: To reduce sodium, replace taco seasoning mix with 1 tablespoon chili pepper, 1 teaspoon oregano and ½ teaspoon garlic powder.

PEACHY POINTERS

Before those fresh peaches fade into memory, try them a new way.
To bake or broil, brush cut sides lightly with a little butter or margarine and heat in a nonstick pan.

A little brandy, sherry, peach liqueur, almond extract or whole cloves adds fabulous flavor.

For a chilled dessert, breakfast or side dish, fill hot or cold poached peach halves with one or more of the following: yogurt, berries, fresh mint, cottage cheese flavored with a drop of almond extract, grated lemon peel, orange marmalade, shaved chocolate or toasted coconut.

Love of seafood sets up tuna for grilling

Chris Gavenda, Ballwin, is the winner of this week's recipe contest for Charcoal-Broiled Tuna. For it she wins a prize of dinner certificates from Pasta House Company. She and her husband developed this dish when they lived in Florida. Having been in Hawaii several years, his love for the taste of fresh tuna and deep sea fishing went hand-in-hand.

As a party dish, she serves it with sliced ripe tomatoes, sliced mozzarella cheese on red leaf lettuce drizzled with a favorite dressing and crusty French bread. For dessert, add fresh fruit and a soothing sorbet.

Recipes in this month's Pasta Salad Recipe Contest will be accepted through Aug. 31 for consideration as winner each week in September. Send in a recipe for a salad that uses any type of pasta — tortellini to macaroni, cornscrews to shells.

One recipe per household can be sent to: Pasta Salad Recipe Contest, 1714 Deer Tracks Trail, St. Louis, Mo. 63131.

As usual, if there is a history to the recipe, it will be considered part of the entry. Along with taste and eye appeal, it will be used as a basis for selecting winners. Originality will be considered, although the recipe need not be original. If possible, name the recipe's source. Include the name of the Journal you receive.

Winners are notified by mail. Duplicate entries will be considered on the basis of earlier entry or best compliance with the rules. Contest winners may enter again six months after their prize-winning publication date.

Horoscope

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 3, 1994
More reasons to get involved with an exciting new project come up today. If you're not studying to keep up with technological developments in your field, you may decide to begin now. You can work out an improved payment plan. It's tough to stick to diets when the moon is in Cancer — caring for others is one of the best diversions for personal appetites.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). Despite your fears, you've got everything in order, and productivity is very high. Take care of your house, pay your bills, and work out a budget. Prepare for some fun just ahead — guests are coming, so fix things up.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Diplomacy works — those concerned are glad to do it your way when you ask in the right way. Get your fair share of exercise and fun. A challenge comes in the form of a new method — be willing to give it a try.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). Sportsmanship is key to public-relations successes today. Your nose is to the grindstone for most of the day, and all that mental energy burns high — refuel this evening by taking time to eat properly and rest.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). You attract attention no matter what you do, so dress with care, forget what others think and concentrate on the job at hand. Be logical during the next two days, and don't let others sway you.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Just keep your opinions to yourself — others are too stubborn or too inexperienced to profit from your wisdom. When they see their own errors, they'll be ready to hear from you. Dreams bring messages.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Aug. 3). You'll be needed as never before, and great satisfaction accrues when others acknowledge your influence and prestige. Through September and October, reach out to many new people and opportunities. November and December are romantic, and you secure a home base at last. In January, a new job or plum assignment comes your way. Through '95, much luck and love are yours!

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Everyday relationships need attention — you're inclined to forget social amenities in your desire to be perfect. Inspirational discussions enliven daily doings — public relations brings great gain.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22). Managing and running a tight ship is more important than public relations today. A mentor gives great advice. Do your best to surpass the competition — it's a winning day. Ethics come first!

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21). An opportunity that comes today won't be back for awhile. Stay flexible so that when someone new walks through the door, you're ready. The future is on your mind — make plans to travel.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). The trick is to turn good ideas into solid projects. Lay the groundwork, and do research — you can find the right insurance deal or savings plan. Negotiations are favored, and so is talk with your mate.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Something that was lost turns up unexpectedly. Accolades are coming your way — and improved financial circumstances are close behind. Stop and smell the roses, too. A good friend wants to make you happy.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). Helping out a co-worker earns you long-term loyalty. Try to balance your needs and desires with those of your partners. Extremes aren't necessary — you can work it out one step at a time. Listen to a Leo.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). Your need to hear and express ideas is strong — find room in your schedule for some original thinking. Take the kids out to play, or help with their homework — you have special influence. Trust your hunches — you're lucky.

Start children writing letters early

By Jane Cosby
Correspondent

Writing letters is an activity that pays dividends in the form of return mail. Everybody likes getting letters, and the surest way to do that is to send out letters.

Introduce your child to the art of letter writing. He can sharpen his reading and writing skills and may develop a useful new hobby at the same time.

Getting Started

The prospect of writing a letter is overwhelming, if you have to go hunting for everything you need: addresses, blank paper, envelopes and stamps.

So, get everything organized in one place. Prepare a letter-writing box for your child with everything he needs for several letters.

Help him make his own address book. Buy a supply of postcards, writing paper and envelopes for his personal use. You may want to include some oversized envelopes for bigger mailings.

Who To Write To
The most obvious choice is out-of-town friends or relatives, but your child doesn't need to stop there.

"The Kid's Address Book" by Michael Levine (A Perigee Book, $9) lists more than 2,000 addresses of celebrities, athletes, entertainers, businesses, television programs, civic organizations and government agencies.

Your child can voice his opinion, ask for information or write to a favorite personality.

The author offers several tips to letter writers who will be using his book. Always include a self-addressed stamped envelope, he says. Without it you probably won't get a response.

Keep the letters short and to the point, Levine says. If you want something, like an autographed picture, ask for it in a short letter.

Make sure your letters are easy to read. Typing it is the best way to ensure that.

What To Say
If your child is writing to a friend or relative, help him outline what to say. He can describe an everyday event that happened to him or someone else in the family. Describing small, seemingly unimportant events makes the reader feel a part of the writer's life.

Your child can write about his friends, his hobbies, his pets, his chores. Everything will be of interest to friends or relatives.

In addition to writing to people he knows, your child can write to express himself. The next time your child gets a bad meal at a fast-food restaurant, tell him to write to the company and tell them about it. If he has a poorly made toy, tell him to write a letter to the manufacturer.

Your child can write to a legislator to express his opinion on current events or write to a favorite celebrity and ask for an autograph or photo.

Here are several addresses to get your child started:
Full House, Warner Bros. Television, 4000 Warner Blvd., Burbank, CA 91522.

LaVar Burton, 8428 Melrose Place, #C, Los Angeles, CA 90069.

U.S. Olympic Committee, 1750 E. Boulder St., Colorado Springs, CO 80909.

Memorial's Emergency Department. . . . . . Here When It Counts

Memorial's Emergency Department is "here when it counts" -
24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Last year, over 39,000 of our friends and neighbors counted on Memorial's skilled emergency professionals when they needed emergency medical care.

Memorial's Emergency Department is ready - when it counts - to meet your needs - whether you need trauma-level emergency care in Memorial's up-to-date Emergency Department - or care for less serious problems in our conveniently available FAST TRACK service.

As this area's largest emergency services provider, Memorial's Emergency Department offers:

- 10 specially-trained emergency physicians from Belleville Emergency Physicians - treating emergencies is their full-time specialty - not just a sideline. And, Memorial schedules more emergency physicians 24 hours a day than other area hospitals.

- 35 experienced registered nurses - all certified in Advanced Cardiac Life Support - most are Trauma Nurse Specialists.
- The area's largest emergency department with 20 trauma treatment areas, six private FAST TRACK rooms, two x-ray rooms, adjacent trauma-level operating rooms, as well as Memorial's full spectrum of modern diagnostic and treatment services.
- The area's original FAST TRACK service for less serious conditions not needing trauma-level care. Our FAST TRACK has a separate physician and nursing staff - 12 hours every day - when your physician may not be available and when you need it.

When you need it, Memorial provides the innovative and convenient emergency care you expect from this area's leader in emergency services.
